

Legal Compliance Checklist for North Carolina Nonprofits

Created by the North Carolina Center for Nonprofits and updated annually, the legal compliance checklist outlines laws that affect North Carolina nonprofits' governance, finances, advocacy, human resources, and fundraising. This checklist is not intended to give legal advice and should not be relied on without your attorney's counsel. Throughout the document, the term "nonprofit" generally refers to 501(c)(3) public charities incorporated in or operating in North Carolina. Private foundations and nonprofits classified as tax-exempt under other Internal Revenue Code sections may be subject to different rules and regulations.

<input type="checkbox"/> Filed your articles of incorporation?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> All NC nonprofits must file articles of incorporation with the NC Secretary of State to operate as a nonprofit corporation. Any individual (incorporator) can file the articles. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> File with the NC Secretary of State Business Registration Division, www.sosnc.gov/divisions/business_registration. Then adopt bylaws and related governance policies at your initial board meeting. It is a good practice for nonprofit boards and key staff to review articles of incorporation and bylaws regularly to be certain they are consistent with each other, with state laws, and with the organization's actual practices. Nonprofits that need to make changes to their articles of incorporation can file articles of amendment or restated articles of incorporation with the NC Secretary of State Business Registration Division.
<input type="checkbox"/> Updated your registered agent's name, phone number, and physical addresses with the NC Secretary of State?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any nonprofit incorporated (or authorized as a foreign nonprofit) in North Carolina that has changed its principal office address, registered office address, or registered agent. Note: If your nonprofit is registered as a foreign corporation in other states, you may need to file annual reports in those states. Currently, North Carolina is one of the few states that does not require nonprofit corporations to file annual reports. The Center continues to advocate for the state to adopt a simple, no-fee annual report for nonprofit corporations. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> File a Change of Registered Office/Agent or Change of Office Address form at any time. Nonprofits with annual gross receipts of more than $50,000 or with an average of more than $50,000 over the past three years must file Form 990 or 990-EZ. Nonprofits with annual gross receipts under $200,000 and total assets under $500,000 may file Form 990-EZ. All 501(c)(3) nonprofits must file their 990s electronically. For nonprofits filing Form 990 and 990-PF, electronic filing requirements took effect for tax years ending July 31, 2020 and later. For nonprofits filing Form 990-EZ, electronic filing requirements took effect for tax years ending July 31, 2021. For larger organizations, this limit increases on a sliding scale up to $1 million. Under Section 501(h), the limit on grassroots lobbying expenditures (i.e., asking members of the public to contact legislators with a specific call to action) is 25% of the limit on direct lobbying expenditures. A nonprofit's expenditures advocating for or against ballot measures are included as direct lobbying expenses for the 501(h) expenditure test. In 2021, the NC House of Representatives passed a bill that would have increased the threshold for charitable solicitation exemption to $50,000 in contributions per year. The bill also would have eliminated notarization requirements for charitable solicitation filings and would have brought the filing deadlines for charitable solicitation renewals into alignment with Form 990 filing deadlines and extensions to help prevent nonprofits from having their charitable solicitation licenses lapse. Refunds are capped at $45 million per year (total of state and local sales taxes paid) per nonprofit. Nonprofits are generally not exempt from North Carolina's 3% highway use tax and are not eligible for refunds of this tax. File Form E-585 semi-annually for refunds: by October 15 for taxes paid January-June; by April 15 for taxes paid July-December. If the Internal Revenue Service misclassifies your nonprofit's NTEE code, you may appeal and request refunds from the NC Department of Revenue based on the proper classification. Note: Under North Carolina's current tax laws, nonprofits are not eligible for point-of-sale exemption from sales and use tax, and the NC Department of Revenue does not issue sales and use tax exemption certificates to nonprofits on the basis of their federal tax-exempt status. Some businesses erroneously ask North Carolina nonprofits to provide a sales tax exemption certificate (Form E-595E) when they make purchases. The Center continues to advocate for legislators to replace the current nonprofit sales tax refund process with a point-of-sale exemption from sales tax for most 501(c)(3) nonprofits.

Collected sales tax on items you sell and remitted these funds to the State?

- Any nonprofit selling physical or digital retail items like books, videos, t-shirts, concessions, recordings of webinars, and e-publications.
- Sales are exempt if conducted on an annual basis to raise funds and if all products are delivered within 60 days after the solicitation (e.g., Girl Scout cookie sales). Nonprofits may have separate distinct annual sales events that are exempt from sales tax. Note: This exemption doesn't apply to sales tax on admission charges.
- Other nonprofit exemptions from sales tax include: (a) sales where the proceeds are given to the State of North Carolina or a state agency (e.g., public schools); (b) sales of concessions at school events that benefit the school, even if the proceeds go through a charitable nonprofit; (c) nonprofits' sales of meals to seniors and individuals with disabilities where the meals are delivered to the individuals' homes; and (d) food or prepared food sold by a house of worship where the proceeds are used for religious activities.
- A nonprofit charging admission for entertainment activities, including live performances or live events for the purpose of entertainment, motion pictures, museums, cultural sites, gardens, exhibits, shows, and similar attractions. Educational, recreational, and many fundraising events done by nonprofits are not subject to this tax. Nonprofits do not need to charge sales tax on tuition or registration fees for educational events, regardless of whether entertainment is offered as an ancillary feature of these events.
- Admission fees are exempt if they are tax-deductible contributions, including any tax-deductible portion of membership fees that would otherwise be subject to the tax.
- Admission fees are also exempt if they are: (a) events sponsored by elementary or secondary schools; or (b) sponsored by "volunteer only" nonprofits that do not pay salary or other compensation to individuals and that do not compensate anyone for performing in, placing in, or producing the event.
- Beginning on October 1, 2019, nonprofits and businesses were required to collect and remit sales tax on digital property, including many online educational offerings. A 2020 law created an exemption from the sales tax on digital property for sales of digital audio or audiovisual works that consist of the contemporaneous access to a non-taxable service. Effectively, this means that nonprofits do not need to charge sales tax on registration fees for online educational participatory events like webinars, conferences, workshops, or fitness classes. However, nonprofits are required to collect and remit sales tax if they sell recordings of these types of online offerings.
- Under a law effective November 9, 2019, marketplace facilitators such as Amazon or Ebay are required to collect and remit sales tax on sales made through their platforms. This means that nonprofits may not need to collect and remit sales tax on goods and services sold through certain third-party websites.

- Register with the NC Department of Revenue for a Certificate of Registration.
- File Form E-500 and pay the tax quarterly or monthly, depending on your volume of sales (www.ncdor.gov/taxes-forms/sales-and-use-tax/sales-and-use-tax-forms-and-certificates/tax-returns-schedules/form-e-500-sales-and-use-tax-return-october-2014-and-forward).
- If your nonprofit has collected taxes in more than one county, also file Form E-536 (Schedule of County Sales and Use Taxes). The county rate you charge is generally based on the delivery location. The tax rate differs by county (www.ncdor.gov/taxes-forms/sales-and-use-tax/sales-and-use-tax-rates-other-information).

<input type="checkbox"/> Properly classified all employees and independent contractors?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any nonprofit with paid staff, consultants, or contractors. The U.S. Department of Labor, IRS, and NC Department of Revenue can impose penalties for improper classification of consultants and contractors who are really employees. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> See IRS Publication 1779 (www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p1779.pdf) to find specific criteria for classifying employees vs. contractors for the purpose of federal tax laws. In October 2022, the U.S. Department of Labor issued a proposed regulation (www.govinfo.gov/content/pkg/FR-2022-10-13/pdf/2022-21454.pdf) setting new standards for classifying workers as employees or independent contractors under the Fair Labor Standards Act. Until the new rule is finalized, the U.S. Department of Labor continues to follow a March 8, 2021 rule that created a two-prong test focusing on the employee's exercise of control over their work and their opportunity for profit or loss. This "economic realities" test allows more employers – including some nonprofits – to classify their workers as contractors to avoid paying benefits and payroll taxes. When the most recent regulations are finalized and take effect (most likely in 2023), the DOL will once again use a multi-factor "totality of circumstances" test to determine whether workers are properly classified as employees or independent contractors for purposes of federal employment laws. The six factors in the proposed new regulations are: (1) opportunity for profit or loss depending on managerial skill; (2) investments by the worker and the employer; (3) degree of permanence of the work relationship; (4) nature and degree of control by the employer; (5) extent to which the work performed is an integral part of the employer's business; and (6) the worker's skill and initiative. For more information, see www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/flsa/misclassification. Starting in 2021, nonprofits that paid individuals $600 or more as independent contractors must file IRS Form 1099-NEC with the IRS and with these contractors. In the past, nonprofits used IRS Form 1099-MISC to report non-employee compensation to contractors. Nonprofits should still use Form 1099-MISC to report compensation of $600 or more paid to attorneys and for raffle prizes of $600 or more. See www.irs.gov/instructions/i1099misc.

The U.S. Department of Labor is expect to issue updated regulations further increasing the salary threshold in Fall 2022. These regulations, which also could potentially clarify parts of the duties tests for administrative, executive, and professional employees, will likely take effect sometime in 2023. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Employees are exempt from the overtime pay requirements of FLSA if they: (1) are paid at least the minimum salary level; (2) are paid on a salary basis; and (3) exercise job duties that are classified as exempt (i.e., executive, administrative, or professional). Effective January 1, 2020, the salary threshold for exempt administrative, executive, and professional employees increased to $35,568 per year ($684 per week), and the salary threshold for highly compensated employees increased to $107,432 per year. For more details about the increased salary threshold for overtime pay and compliance options for nonprofits, see www.ncnonprofits.org/resources/2019-dol-overtime-rule-and-nonprofits. Nonprofits can change an employee's status any time during the year. Nonprofits must pay non-exempt staff 1.5 times their usual hourly pay rate for any time they work more than 40 hours in one work week. Nonprofits have the option of electing to reimburse the state for unemployment claims instead of paying UI taxes. Nonprofits electing to reimburse must maintain 1% of their total payroll in an escrow account with the NC Department of Commerce. Reimbursing nonprofits in North Carolina were not charged for UI claims arising due to COVID-19 from the beginning of the pandemic through September 4, 2021. The federal and state laws providing for partial non-charging of benefits to reimbursing nonprofits expired on September 4, 2021, so reimbursing nonprofits are responsible for the cost of benefits beginning on September 4, 2021. Most nonprofits with fewer than four employees and most religious nonprofits are exempt from paying state UI taxes. Employees of exempt nonprofits are generally not eligible for UI benefits if they are out of work. During the COVID-19 pandemic, individuals who worked for exempt nonprofits and were out of work due to COVID-19 were eligible to apply for up to 39 weeks of UI benefits through September 4, 2021 through the Pandemic Unemployment Assistance program. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Apply before hiring employees. Nonprofits that elect to reimburse the state for unemployment claims may apply for a refund if they erroneously remit more than the required 1% of payroll to the state. Because unemployment benefits are lower in North Carolina than in other states, electing to reimburse may be a more cost-effective approach for many North Carolina nonprofits. Nonprofits that pay state unemployment tax (SUTA) instead of reimbursing for unemployment claims must pay SUTA quarterly.
